Market Commentary & Product Updates

Bond prices are lower in early trading as Treasury yields edge higher. The U.S. 10-Year Treasury yield is currently at 4.175%, slightly above its opening level of 4.169%. The LMI Logistics Managers Index released this morning declined for a second consecutive month, falling to 54.2 in December from 55.7 in each of the prior two months. The index signaled the slowest pace of expansion in the logistics sector since April 2024, with most of the downward pressure stemming from inventory and warehousing markets. Inventory contraction is likely the result of a rapid drawdown during the holiday season. The ISM Services PMI and Job Openings data are scheduled for release tomorrow.
